

PASSAGE OF A BILLYBANKS INSURANCE COMPANY

A Detailed Account Of The Recent Activities Which Led Up To, And The Final Merger Of The Race's Largest Financial Institution With A White Concern Of The South.

SERVICE CO. OBLIGATION WAS FINANCIAL STRAIN

By The Associated Negro Press
ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—Announcement was authorized here today that the Standard Life Insurance Company of this city, one of the largest Negro companies, had been merged with the Southern Insurance Company of Nashville, Tenn., a white organization. This simple statement issued after a joint meeting of the officials of the two companies acquainted the public with the fact that a climax had been reached in the difficulties which have long troubled the Standard Life Insurance Co. and its allied Atlanta company. The Standard Life Insurance Co. has been battling and lifted the curtain on another scene in a drama of financial and racial strife which the country has watched intently for the past year.

Attention was called to the spokesman for the two groups, President Will G. Harris of the Southern and Standard Life Insurance Co. Harris, who is president of the Standard Life Insurance Co., said that the two companies will operate for the present as separate institutions. He said the Standard Life Insurance Co. will be consolidated into a single organization which will be known as the Standard Life Insurance Co. Harris said that the merger brought together assets of over five million dollars and said that there was outstanding business of nearly $100,000. He said that the merger would place the Standard Life Insurance Co. in a position to do business in all the states and territories of the United States. Harris said that the merger would place the Standard Life Insurance Co. in a position to do business in all the states and territories of the United States.

These resignations were elected with three exceptions. Bishop R. E. Jones, his brother David Jones, secretary of the company, and J. R. Phillips, director of the company, were elected to continue their duties. Harris said that the merger would place the Standard Life Insurance Co. in a position to do business in all the states and territories of the United States.

These resignations were elected with three exceptions. Bishop R. E. Jones, his brother David Jones, secretary of the company, and J. R. Phillips, director of the company, were elected to continue their duties. REACTION IN ST. LOUIS ON STANDARD'S MERGER

Much excitement in St. Louis followed the publication in the Argus last week of the account of the merger of the Standard Life Insurance Company of Atlanta with the Southern Life Insurance Co. of Nashville, Tenn. The noticeable reaction here has been the statements coming from several policy holders in the Standard Life Insurance Co. who say that they will immediately apply for policies in accordance with the terms of their contracts.

Attorney Homer G. Phillips stated that he reserved the right to insure in such insurance companies as he may select, but would refuse to be sold or bargained at the will of others.

Another policy holder said he did not desire, nor inclination to contribute to the rabble South to help them buy up and sell with which to lynch and burn the Negro.

Lucian P. Garrett, manager of the St. Louis office, has sent in his resignation to the Standard Life Insurance Co. He said that he would resign on January 17, or at as early a date as a successor can be obtained.
